

Dear Christina,

Thank you for a job well done at the Magento Imagine Conference (April 2016). It was a pleasure working with you in preparation for your speaking session. I appreciate your attention to details and deadlines. It's the smallest things that can make a big difference in a presentation.

Your session was very successful in large part because of your engaging and natural speaking style. As you well know, public speaking isn't easy but you seemed right at home on the stage. The pace and level of detail was spot on for the audience.

I look forward to working together in the future. Best of luck to you.

Best regards,

Darren
